ENGLAND BEGINS TO REDUCE ARMY

War Secretary Arnold-Forster Announces Programme to Cut Down Expenses.

WILL CUT INTO THE NAVY.

Oan Reduce Appropriations Now Owing to Progress Made With Submarine Craft.

London, July 14-War Secretary Arnold-Forster made his long-promised statement as to his proposed reform of the army when the House of Commons went into committee this afternoon on the vote for

The Secretary said he did not propose to touch the militia, as public opinion was not ripe therefor; neither would the royal artillery be decreased nor the number of cavalry regiments be reduced. He proposed to reduce the regular infantry forces by fourteen battalions, leaving forty or fifty battalions for home service after providing for India and the colonies.

The army would be divided into two parts. A certain number of battalions would be kept a home. These would be reduced to 500 men, 400 of whom would be enlisted for two years' service and would afterwards enter the reserve for six years. These would be in reality territorial bat-

These would be in reality territorial battalions, and the object of the shot-service system would be to build up the reserve. The volunteer establishment would be reduced to 180,000 men, and much larger grants would be made, so as to make the volunteers an effective force.

From 15,000 to 16,000 regular troops would be kept at Aldershot, ready to take the field as fighting force. Provision would be made for a permanent garrison of 21,500 men in South Africa.

It appears that Mr. Arnold-Forster's proposal would result in a decrease of 3,761 men, leaving a total force of 22,600, and a decrease in expenditure of 32,450,000.

In view of the progress made in submarine boats, he hoped to make a considerable reduction in the expenditure on the aquatic establishment. He discarded the conscription proposal, as it would cost an additional $120,000,000 yearly for the same number of troops as now forthcoming.

far the largest ever shown at an expo-sition. Prominence was given to this branch of art by Chief Haisey C. Ives, in an effort to place applied art on a plane with the so-called fine arts.

The display consists of a large collec-tion of original objects of art workman-ship, including vases, bowls, bound books, fancy cases and pieces of furniture, stained-glass windows, desk sets, jewels, cushions, tapestry work, rugs, leather panels, baskets and many other small pieces. They are all handmade and rep-resent the arts and crafts movement, which is a protest against the monotony which is a protest against the monotony of machine-made goods. The displays in the United States section contain nearly one thousand pieces and are placed in large glass cases.

The Van Dyke Wholesale Liquer Com-pany was organized in East St. Louis ees-terday, and the incorporation papers for $100,000 were sent to Springfield last even-ing. The firm has been in business in East St. Louis for several years, but it was recently decided to incorporate. The incorporators, who are the officers, are: Thomas Van Dyke president, John Marsh vice president, Frank Furey secretary and treasurer. ister have caused the arrest of two employes of the Concessions Department of the World's Fair. They are William H. Ellis, 20 years old, a checker of restaurants, and Charles H. Stiller, 37, an inspector, Both gave their addresses as No 4233 Lucky street.

The information on which the men were placed in the police station at the World's Fair was the alleged tampering with a cash register. It is said that they have been under the surveillance of the secret-service of the Division of Concessions and Admissions for the last week. arrest in the result of evidence against them said to have been obtained by Pinkerton operatives.

The amount involved is said to be small—less than $30. Director Norris B. Greag says that he does not believe that they had other confederates, or that there was any organized conspirary in the department to defraud the Exposition.

The men were arrested and lodged in the Exposition Police Station into Weinessins afternoon, and held incommunicado, the news of their arrest not being known until yesterday. Mr. Greag, with the detectives and World's Fair police, hed the men under examination Wednesday night, and far into yesterday morning.

WHEAT DAMAGES IN TWO STATES

From Thirty to Thirty-Two Mil lions of Bushels Lost in Kansas and Nebraska.

Kansas City Mo. July 14 - Grain men on 'change here felt a little more cheerful to-day over the wheat crop conditions in the Southwest. The letters and telegrams from the country generally indicated that be as great as at first reported. The general disposition was to think Coburn's sensational report on Kansas conditions generally exaggerated, though some of the bes, informed dealers on 'change still think Kansas has lost 20,000,000 to 30,000,000 of wheat on account of the floods.

SHORT CROP IN NEBRASKA.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.
Lincoln, Neb., July 14.-No State board in Nebraska gathers crop statistics. Grain men who gather reports from the grain helt of the State, and who have been active in securing information during the last few days, estimate the damage done by rust, blight and heavy winds, accompanied by rain, at from 10,000,000 to 12,000, 000 busines, reducing the yield from 45,
000,000 busines his year,
The southern corner of the State is the most affected, crops in that section being badly damaged. Reports gathered by the flurilington Railroad agree with the fluries compiled by the grain men.
Corn is not damaged, but will be late.
Oats and rye are in good condition. last few days, estimate the damage done

STORM HURTS CROPS IN CENTRAL ILLINOIS.

Rain and Wind Do Great Damage to Onts and Hay, and Unroof Many Houses.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Bloomington, Ill., July 14.-A remarkable electric storm passed over Central Illinois this afternoon. Many head of stock were killed.

The storm was most disastrous near Pekin and points intermediate. A tremendous amount of water fell, and there is heavy loss to farmers.
Oats and hay harvest is now at its height in many sections, and great damage to both crops resulted.
